

Summer Reading

2019

Upcoming First Graders

To the parents of upcoming FIRST GRADERS:

The following is a list of suggested books for your child to read before the onset of school in the fall. There is no set number of books to read but reading 20 minutes a day alone or with a parent would be a reasonable goal. We recommend going on family outings to your local library or always having a book to read in your car.

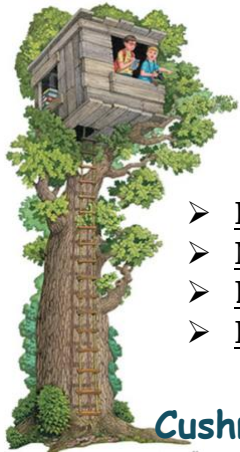

There are different levels of readers entering first grade along with many different interest levels. Please help your first grader choose books he or she will enjoy reading and books that will help with fluency. By maintaining an active literacy life over the summer, you ensure your child the best start to the next grade level!

Most first grade selections are Accelerated Reader books. Students may take AR quizzes in the fall (optional).
